Chapter 10

When water freezes, it expands by nine percent.
If water enters a crack in a stone and freezes, the pressure exerted by the ice is enough to widen the crack.
Once melted, more water enters the larger crack, and the cycle is repeated.
In areas of frequent temperature change, erosion wears away at rocks relatively quickly.

KA-SLAM!
spacemonauts!
the earth is in peril!

yaay!
Erosion
well, that clears my next 40 mmutes.

I must admit I question the educational value of Dr. Disaster's classes.
aw come on, annie, just think of it as a drama lesson.
LAUNCH PAD SKREEE!
hurry along now, spacemonauts!
the rocket awaits!
WHRRRRRR
WHRRRRRR

how does all this work, kat? is it like that room with the cherry tree?

nah, everything in that room except the sky was real.

in here everything we see is made with holograms.

i bet we're able to feel stuff because of some kinda haptic feedback in our suits.

but that's not the point. you're supposed to enjoy it!

RRRMBLE

COM-1
spacemonauts! the evil enigmarons are threatening the earth from their moon base on the moon!
they have a death ray of epic proportions trained on the capital cities of every country this very second!
ROCKET!
isn't there always a death ray?

doctor! we are approaching the moon!
excellent!
I will be sending down an elite team to deal with the enigmaron menace!

BWOIMF!
horf!
they must be the bad guys!
those are the terrible enigmarons?
they don't even have arms.

BOUND!
BYOO!
BYOO!
you can join them if you wish. I'm sure I'll catch up eventually.
hurry!
the others are going on ahead!
GRR!
STOMP

come on, annie, we only get to do this like, once a month.
everyone is having a good time but you.
why can't you just enjoy it?
I just find it all... a little silly.
that's kinda the point! it's a chance for us to dress up and run around like crazies.
it's a nice change from the classroom.
I suppose you are right, kat.
I'm sorry I...
...
kat?

DISASTER!
In their haste, the spacemonauts were captured by the enigmarons and taken to their evil lair!
It is up to you, spacemonaut carver, to rescue them and complete the mission!
Well...
Kat said I should try and have fun

you fiends!
you'll never get away with this!
I know I shouldn't, but...
I can't help but wonder how creatures without arms could make such a device.
and tie my friends up.

oh well, here I go.
SWRANG!
WOOOOOSH!
BADOOF!
BWAAM!
go on, carver!
yaaaay!

now say something witty to the enigmarons and finish the mission!
do I have to?
YES!
um...
I hope you like your...
smashed...
death ray!
hahahaha!
excellent!
splendid!
it would appear that witty phrases are not my forte.
nice one, carver. let's get back to the ship.
so, did you have a good time?
yes, I did.

hey! we got into a space battle!
awesome!
HI-5
I suppose some things are better learned away from a text book.

meanwhile...

good good.
the earth is safe...
until next time...
THE END?
